

Lorus Therapeutics Announces Resignation of Director

TORONTO, CANADA – March 4, 2010 – Lorus Therapeutics Inc. (“Lorus” or the “Company”), a biopharmaceutical company specializing in the discovery, research and development of pharmaceutical products and technologies for the management of cancer, today reported that Mr. Georg Ludwig, HighTech Beteiligungen GmbH & Co. KG’s (“HighTech”) representative on Lorus’ board of directors (the “Board”) has resigned effective March 3, 2010.

Mr. Ludwig, a director of Lorus’ Board since September 2006 and current member of the Audit Committee has advised Lorus that he has resigned to facilitate the intended liquidation and divestiture of HighTech’s assets, including its investment in Lorus.

HighTech, a private equity fund, is subject to a requirement that the fund be liquidated no later than December 2011, and is currently exploring its options with respect to its holdings in Lorus and its other portfolio companies. According to Mr. Ludwig, these options could include the divestment of its holdings in either a public or private transaction, a distribution of its holdings to HighTech’s investors or a combination of the foregoing.

Pursuant to an agreement with Lorus, HighTech has the ability to nominate another director to Lorus’ Board. In addition, HighTech has registration rights with respect to its holding of Lorus’ shares.

Dr. Denis Burger, Chairman of Lorus, stated: “Mr. Ludwig has been a valuable member of Lorus’ Board and we thank him for his many contributions to the Company during his time with the Company. His keen ability for strategic thinking and fresh point of view were invaluable to Lorus’ Board of Directors. Georg has our gratitude and wishes for success in all his future endeavors.”

“I have appreciated working with Lorus’ directors and management over the last four years and wish all of you the best for the future and a great success with Lorus’ drug development programs,” commented Mr. Ludwig.
